DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/28/2005 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 8-12, 18, 19, 21-22, 28-31, and 52-54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Leveen (U.S. 3,972,333).

Leveen discloses the claimed invention in figures 1 and 4, note that a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Furthermore, wherein the second support location (as shown above) is clearly capable of engaging at least one the fingers of the hand for supporting the forceps.

3. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 8-12, 18, 19, 21-22, 28-31, and 52-54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Salai (U.S. 5,047,049).

Salai discloses the claimed invention in figure 3, note that a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Furthermore, wherein the second support location (as shown above) is clearly capable of engaging at least one the fingers of the hand for supporting the forceps.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 11/28/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that neither Laveen '333 nor Salai '049 patent disclose or suggest the middle section of at least one opposing blade including an extension supporting member having a distal surface forming a support location for engaging at least one of the middle finger of the hand for supporting the forceps type apparatus and with the extension support member projecting downwardly relative to the bottom side of opposing blade. These are simply not convincing, due to the rejections as shown above and furthermore, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

In view of the amendments to the claims and arguments as presented by applicant. The Examiner still disagrees with Applicant's remarks and has maintained the grounds of rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Laveen '333 and Salai '049 for the same reasons as set forth in the above office action.

Conclusion

2. This is a RCE of applicant's earlier Application No. 10/829,346. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 3731

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
